A PLAN FOR A PERENNIAL BORDER

A simplified plan to fit your space, your location and your pocketbook. An exclusive and original idea of Carroll Gardens to help you have a beautiful perennial border at reasonable cost and with minimum care. Read it carefully and decide on the group that fits your purpose best. If you are planning a formal garden, a straight-line border fits best into your scheme. But if you are trying for an informal effect, a curved border will be better. A perennial border is always best planted along a dividing line, along a picket fence or in front of shrubbery. It is never advisable to put it in the middle of the lawn. The length as well as the width depends on the space that you have available.

THE PERENNIAL BOOKLET OFFERED FREE ON OUR ORDER SHEET WILL GO INTO MORE DETAIL REGARDING THE PLANTING OF A PERENNIAL BORDER. YOU WILL FIND IT HELPFUL. If this plan doesn't suit you, why not lay one out for yourself? You'll have lots of fun doing it.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY. Here is how the plan works: If you want to use only 24 plants, these will be enough for a bed 8 feet long and 3 feet wide, using one plant for each space provided as keyed. If you want to make the bed 16 feet long and 3 feet wide, use 48 plants, or 2 for each space. If you want to make the bed 24 feet long and 3 feet wide, use 72 plants, or 3 for each space. However, if you have the space and want a really spectacular and colorful border, make the bed 30 feet long and 5 feet wide. Put 6 plants in each space as keyed, and set them about 12 inches apart.

• The red mark indicates where groups of spring-flowering bulbs such as tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, crocus, etc., may be planted to brighten the border in very early spring. Peonies, iris and Oriental poppies may be planted where the letters appear.

Hardy PERENNIAL PLANTS

All over America perennials have their place in sun and shade. A source of color and fragrance in the garden, they also provide an abundance of cut flowers for our homes. In modest dooryards, in large gardens and in city parks, perennials are an important part of the landscape.

In contrast to annuals whose life cycle consists of one year from seed to seed, perennials live on for several years or longer, depending on the care they get.

Many of the hardy perennials we grow today are native to our own country, and many more have been introduced from other lands. All are adaptable in some way to American gardens. We soon learn to know those that flourish in partial shade, in full sun, in wet places or in hot, dry areas. It is possible to find plants to fit almost any situation.

Modern gardens are usually comparatively small in size. As a result every gardener is challenged to make the most of his plot of ground. Think of perennials as a part of your outdoor living-room—the plant materials which help to complement its color scheme, furniture and decoration.

We are anxious to help you enjoy the finest perennials available in order to make your garden more colorful and more interesting. Production of perennials has been our main endeavor at Carroll Gardens from the very start 27 years ago, and each year we produce well over half a million plants to serve our many thousands of customers throughout the United States and Canada.

If you will check from page 16 through page 32 you will see listed, described and illustrated one of America's finest collections of perennial flowers suitable for almost any situation that may arise.

If at any time we can be of help in supplying you with information on perennials as well as other nursery stock, please do not hesitate to consult us.

PINK HANGING-BASKET BEGONIA

CAMELLIA-FLOWERED BEGONIA →

Among the showiest of summer-flowering bulbs, lasting into the fall. Any good light soil with plenty of humus in a fairly shaded location, will grow good Begonias. Mix a liberal amount of woods soil, well-rotted manure, compost or peat moss with garden soil to make it light in texture. Water often during dry season. These bulbs may be grown in window boxes or large pots on shaded porches, or in any good selected spot in the garden that is fairly shaded and away from roots of trees that might rob them of all moisture and food. Such places as the north side of a wall or foundation are ideal. FINEST HARDY MUMS

Hardy Chrysanthemums are among the most dependable flowers in the autumn garden, providing glorious color and spicy fragrance from early September (August with some varieties) until heavy frost.

There are Chrysanthemums of many types, from the Cushion Mums for low mounds of color in borders and rock gardens, to the long-stemmed kinds for cutting.

We feel that we have one of America's finest and most up-to-date Chrysanthemum collections. Our list includes selected varieties from the best Chrysanthemum specialists in the country, including some of our own introductions and the new imported Super Giant English varieties.

Due to lack of space, we are listing only the most important varieties that we have. Many other sorts are available. Write us if you are interested in them.

CULTURE. Chrysanthemums will grow in any good average garden soil which has been enriched with manure or good commercial fertilizer. Plant them 15 to 18 inches apart. Cultivate the soil between them, particularly while they are in the young stage. You can pinch the plants up to July 15 if they are tall and spindly. Don't pinch any more after that date. Hardy Chrysanthemums do best if grown in full sun. If they are planted in the shade, they will grow too tall, have weak stems, and produce inferior blooms.

Avalanche. Famed early white. A fluffy, snowy godsend. Shaggy, 3 to 3½-inch flower. 18 to 24 in. Mid-September.

Champagne. An entirely new color in Mums—could be described as ivory-shell-pink. Large bloom on strong, well-branched plants. An exquisite color. 3 ft. Late September.

John Furst. A typical fall color in Mums. Fully double, brilliant glistening orange. Strong plant and beautiful flowers. 30 in. Early October.

Nobility. New 1959! Velvety-textured, deep dark red flowers on strong branched plants. Excellent dark green foliage. 26 in. Early October.

Purple Heart. Semi-quilled petals of grapejuice-purple with a silvery reflex. This flower ages well and is a beautiful color when several weeks old. 26 in. Late September.

Ruthann Lehman. Immense canary-yellow. Excellent plant and habit. Very good cut flower.

Any of above varieties, 75c each;
3 for $2.00; 6 for $3.75; 12 for $6.85
